Apextech wins WBJ's Fast 50 Award

ARLINGTON, VA, Dec. 15, 2016 – Apextech LLC earned a #2 ranking on the Washington Business Journal's list of Washington's Fastest Growing Companies in 2016. The Washington Business Journal announced the rankings at their annual awards banquet on Oct. 27, 2016.

The list ranking comes from averaging the percent change in revenue from 2013 to 2014 and the percent change from 2014 to 2015. Apextech had an average percent change of 195.11%, making it the second fastest growing company in the Washington, DC, area. In order to qualify for the list, companies must be headquartered in the Washington area, have no parent company and have generated at least $2 million in revenue in 2013 and $10 million in 2015 to qualify for the list.

Apextech has experienced significant growth in the Department of Defense (DOD) and Federal markets in recent years. This expansion has resulted in work in over 37 customer locations across the continental United States and in two U.S. territories.

Apextech LLC is a business consulting and solutions provider, offering robust services for human and financial resource management, program management and leadership development. Another significant business area is IT services related to financial application development, SaaS solutions, network operations and cybersecurity.

"Since its inception, Apextech has put the customer first and has always maintained integrity in everything we do for the customer," says Apextech partner Steve Ferraro. "This same commitment to our employees has provided us a solid foundation for continued growth in the future. It's exciting to be a recipient of the Washington Business Journals' Fast 50. We owe our success to all of our employees who have helped our achievement."
